The Estabrook Woods

The Estabrook Woods is not a public park. Its core is Harvard's nature preserve and research area. The Woods are mostly privately owned, with public access permitted on much for study, sauntering, and low-impact, traditional uses. Please respect research areas, posted rules and privacy and leave the country better than you found it. This map is from the Carlisle Mosquito, adapted by Harold Schneider from those of Allie Bemis Buetti and Mary Gail Fenn, with additions by Steve Ells. The scale of the map is one inch equals approximately 1500 feet. Updated in 1999 and 2017.
